Synopsis

"In-Between" is a choreographic work that displays the conceptual being of limbo. A state of being between states. Often times we find ourselves in situations that cause us to go completely numb, as we are neither sad nor happy.

Our depiction of "In-Between" comes from our seemingly abrupt end to one journey and the overwhelming start of another, as we transition out of university into the professional sphere. Therefore, "In-Between" aims to question our reality, existence, our present, past and destiny. Is it one we create or has one already been created for us?

Directors + Choreographers

Naheesha Heydricks is a choreographer and dancer. She also sketches and does fashion designing. Throughout the years she has developed her own style of dance and wishes to bring it to the community. She aspires to create her own work and grow within her evolution in dance.

Cassidy Phillips is a trained dancer and choreographer. She has dance training in Ballet, Contemporary, African-Contemporary, Hip-Hop and Tap Dance. She currently teaches contemporary dance and fitness at her dance studio, Creative Works Dance Studio.

Cassidy Van Rooyen is a 3rd -year choreography student who aspires to be every facet of her artistic self. Cassidy is trained in Ballet, Contemporary, African, and Hip-Hop and never sits in her comfort technique styles. Her movement styles, dance aesthetics and dance philosophies are influenced by Merce Cunningham and Isadora Duncan.

Mike Galeboe is a final year choreography major at UCT. Mike is currently a part of and training with Elite Movement, ORIOZ, and APEX Dance Crew. An amalgamation of these street dance crews and his formal training fostered a unique movement and choreographic lens for Mike to explore and engage in.
